KUROPATKIN BEGINS FORWARD MOVEMENT

He is Reported to be Pushing Ahead Despite Obstacles.

The Japanese Reported to Have Lost 50,000 Men in Port Arthur Attacks.

THE BALTIC FLEET RESUMES ITS LONG CRUISE

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—A dispatch received this morning reports that Gen. Kuropatkin resumed the offensive yesterday. He took important positions to the right of Kuroki's army and captured two guns, 140 shells, and fifty five men. The Russian losses were five hundred killed and wounded. Bad weather continues at the front but Gen. Kuropatkin is determined to persist in his forward movement in the face of all obstacles.

BALTIC FLEET SAILS.

Copenhagen, Oct. 21.—The Russian Baltic fleet today weighed anchor off the Skag and steamed into the North Sea. The vessels have thus far embarked on their long journey in almost perfect condition.

RED CROSS CRITICIZED.

London, Oct. 21.—The Times' Russian correspondent says that the administration of the Russian Red Cross society in the far east is subjected to serious criticism. There has been much speculation in the management, and little confidence is felt that money given the society will reach the Russian sick and wounded.

RUSSIANS LUCKY.

London, Oct. 21.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Central News wires that an unconfirmed rumor has been received there from Mukden asserting that the Russians have captured forty seven guns.

KILLED ABOUT 50,000 JAPS.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—A special from the Chicago Post says: "According to a camp follower with the Japanese army now besieging Port Arthur and at present in Chefoo, the number of Japanese killed before the forts has reached 50,000. He says the Mikado's men recklessly attacked the strongest positions, making bold rushes in masses, soldiers being stripped of their accoutrements and clothing. The result was that the Russian machine guns mowed them down. He also asserts that there is some talk among the officers and men that leads to the belief that the Japanese mean to try to carry the inner forts and extend this month."

JAPS WERE DEFEATED.

Mukden, Oct. 21.—There was a sudden attack by the Japanese at 3:25 Wednesday afternoon upon the Russian advanced position southwest of Mukden. The Russians made a counter attack and the Japanese quickly fell back, having sustained losses. The Russian casualties were three killed and seven wounded. The Japanese were pressed so hard they were obliged to abandon a gun, from which the breach block had been removed. The lumber contained 48 rounds of ammunition. Thanks to the dense fog prevailing at the time, the Russians were able to remove the gun without the loss of a man.

ARMIES PROTECTED BY FOG.

Mukden, Oct. 21.—The hostile armies were yesterday concealed from view of each other by a dense fog in which it has been impossible to see objects at a distance of 100 paces. Under such conditions only unimportant operations are possible, such as surprises and ambushes. Possibly, were the roads in better condition, the fog might favor a forward movement of troops and concentrations at unexpected points, but without the question of large operations would be too dangerous, and so everything has been quiet today. Neither ammunition nor musketry firing has been audible.

RUSSIANS ALSO LOSE 5,000.

Chefoo, Oct. 21.—Port Arthur news of the 19th brought by Pink, says the bombardment continues, and many buildings have been damaged and ships in the harbor also have been hit by shells. The Japanese main forces are now posted at Lintzating and have placed guns of large caliber on Lintzating Mountain. The Russian losses since the commencement of the siege has been fully fifty thousand, it is said.

AN OFFICIAL LIST OF LOSSES.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—An official list of the officers killed and wounded between Oct. 11 and 13 totals 172, including Major Gen. Radzinski and seven other field officers. The killed and wounded are in proportion one to six. The losses among the men are thought to approach twenty thousand. Today the war office has received information that Gen. E. and Gen. Monastir's divisions each lost six officers. Roads are now being dried by the sun.

JAPS TO RETIRE.

London, Oct. 21.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph asserts that the general staff has received a telegram reporting that the Japanese are preparing to retire along a whole front.

KILLED GUNNER.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—A press telegram from Mukden says that a force of Russians yesterday destroyed a Japanese battery, killed the gunners and captured three guns.

ANOTHER PEACE CONFERENCE.

Washington, Oct. 21.—A cabinet meeting today was devoted almost entirely to the formulation of a circular to the powers, inviting them to participate in another peace conference at The Hague. The letter will be sent out within a few days.

NO FIGHTING YESTERDAY.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—Gen. Sakhaloff reports that no general fighting occurred yesterday.

ON DIVORCE

THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES SEEMS TO HAVE AGREED.

Boston, Oct. 21.—By an overwhelming majority a compromise canon on the remarriage of divorced persons was adopted by the house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention and if it is concurred in by the bishops the most important issue that has come before the present convention will have been disposed of for at least three years.

The compromise measure, like the old law, permits the remarriage of an innocent person in a divorce for the cause of infidelity, but further provides that no remarriage shall be allowed within one year after the decree has been issued by a civil court. Satisfactory proof of the innocence of the applicant for remarriage must be furnished in the shape of court records and after the consent of the bishop and after a clergyman may refuse to perform such ceremony without subjecting himself to censure or disqualification.

CAPT. YOUNG

HAD A CLOSE CALL IN ST LOUIS.

John Young, formerly of Hickman, later of Paducah, but now of Thebes, was in the city yesterday. He had just returned from the World's Fair. While in St. Louis, he had a very narrow escape, being struck by a street car and only saved from being run over by the thoughtfulness and quick action of his wife who was with him, jerking him out of the way. He added in telling of the incident: "I couldn't see them all at once. I stepped out of the way of one and right plumb into another."—Olathe Bulletin.

Geneva, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Two freight trains on the New York Central collided this morning near Geneva. Three members of the crew were killed and two seriously injured.

A good name may be better than great riches, but few men are in position to choose a name.

KENTUCKY SYNOD

MEETS NEXT WEEK

It will be an important Religious Meeting.

The Organization Embraces 206 Churches and a Membership of 17,585.

MANY DELEGATES EXPECTED

The Kentucky Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will meet in the first church of this city, corner Sixth and Kentucky avenue, on Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and will be one of the most important religious gatherings of the year.

The Kentucky Synod is composed of seven Presbyteries, the Cumberland, Letchfield, Logan, Louisville, Mayfield, Owensboro and Princeton. It has within its bounds (the State of Kentucky) 93 ordained ministers, 206 churches, 990 elders, and 17,585 members. Each minister is ex-officio a member of the synod, and a delegate, and each church is entitled to a lay delegate from the eldership.

In addition the Sunday school and Youtag People's Society frequently send a delegate, who is a "visitor." The Woman's Missionary Society holds its sessions in connection with the meeting of synod, so that the aggressive leaders in various departments of church work, are usually present at the meetings.

In the center of the state the attendance frequently runs up to two hundred or more, but, as Paducah is at one end of the state, and very far from the large part of the church, the attendance will not be so large.

A good attendance is expected, however, on account of the great interest taken in the union question which is before the Presbyteries for action.

The synod will meet in the auditorium of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, corner Sixth and Kentucky avenue, and the Woman's Missionary Meeting will meet in the lecture room of the Broadway Methodist church, corner Seventh and Broadway.

THREE KILLED

VANDALS CAUSE A WRECK NEAR TOURS, FRANCE.

Tours, France, Oct. 21.—Two express trains collided at Chancy today. Three persons were killed, including an army officer. The collision, at all appearances, was due to malevolence.

NOBLE SACRIFICE.

YOUNG ELECTRICIAN GIVES UP HIS LIFE TO SAVE HIS SWEETHEART.

McKeesport, Pa., Oct. 21.—James L. Carley, aged 21, a draftsman at the East Pittsburg Works of the Westinghouse Electric Company, gave up his life to save his sweetheart.

Carley and a companion named Myers were escorting Misses Walters and Kessler to their homes, and while crossing the Baltimore and Ohio tracks at Eleventh street a switch engine suddenly bore down upon them. Carley gave the alarm in time for Walters and Miss Kessler to reach safety, but he and Miss Walters were a step or two behind the first couple and Carley seized Miss Walters and threw her bodily clear of the track. Before he could recover his balance the locomotive cut him to pieces.

REWARDED AT LAST.

MAN GETS A FORTUNE FOR INVENTION WHICH MAY REVOLUTIONIZE RAILROADS.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 21.—After walking from Terre Haute, Ind., and dependent of success, T. E. Leroy was offered and accepted $164,000 for one-fourth interest in a patent to tie the ends of steel rails together. The New York Central railroad is the purchaser, and their representative who negotiated the deal is H. O. Henderson, a Knoxville lawyer. An option was also secured on the remaining one-fourth interest in Leroy's possession for $164,000.

The patent, it is claimed, will revolutionize construction of railroads as to safety. Leroy's friends put up the money to secure the patent, which is a substitute for the cash prize.

CHOATE TO RESIGN

IT IS REPORTED WHITELAW REID SUCCEEDS HIM IN MARCH.

Manchester, Eng., Oct. 21.—The Guardian learns that American Ambassador Choate will resign his position at the Court of St. James on March 4 next, whether President Roosevelt is elected or not. The paper mentions Whitelaw Reid as Choate's probable successor.

SHERIFF IS EXPECTED.

Detective McCabe, who is still in the city, expects the sheriff from Sherman, Conn., with a Pinkerton man from New York this evening. They will come here by way of Frankfort, and probably remain in Paducah a day or two before starting back on their long trip.

ANOTHER LINE MAY BE BUILT BY THE I. C.

It is Proposed to Invade Three States.

It is Proposed to Go to Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Then into Louisville.

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING MADE

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 21.—The annual meeting of the Illinois Central stockholders, rich and poor, representing twelve states, held here Wednesday last, lasted less than half an hour. Invasion of Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky by the rail road was discussed, but not in the meeting. The first indication of this project was contained in the incorporation of the Kensington and Eastern railway company at Springfield ten days ago. It is now stated that this little road, running from the Kensington tracks of the Illinois to the Indiana state line, will be the opening wedge for a direct line to Indianapolis, whence the road will attempt to reach Cincinnati and thence across the Ohio river into Louisville. Officers of the Illinois Central are expected to talk of the imminent road would discuss the efforts of the Illinois Central to enter Milwaukee. It is known that agents of the road have been investigating the situation there.

President Fish read the following statement intended to show the unique and widespread ownership of the road: "The total capital is $93,400,000 in 934,000 shares of $100 each."

"For the first time in ten years we have to record a decrease in the number of shares held in America. The change is, however, slight, amounting to 3,119 shares, and there are now owned in this country 730,857 shares, being 77.54 per cent. of the total."

"In the twelve states in which the company runs its trains there are owned by 2874 proprietors 138,207 shares."

Among interesting figures in the annual report are the following: Total mileage in operation, 4,374. Gross receipts from traffic, $46,831,133.90.

Expense of operation, $32,793,241.31. Taxes, 1,922,430.80.

Total, $34,875,682.17. Net income from traffic, $12,037,892.73.

Ninety-eight semi-annual cash dividend, paid March 1, 1904, $2,851,200.00.

Ninety-ninth semi-annual cash dividend, paid Sept. 1, 1904, $2,851,200.00.

DR. LLOYD TELLS WHY HE DECLINED

THE BISHOPRIC OF KENTUCKY

In declining the call to the bishopric of Kentucky Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd says in his letter to the Rev. Dr. Mianigerode of Louisville, that he has given the call his greatest consideration and concludes that it is best for the church and the Kentucky diocese that he remain in his present office.

The letter of declination was written to Dr. Mianigerode as president of the standing committee, and is as follows: October 15, 1904.—My Dear Doctor: I have come to the conclusion that I ought to tell your committee that after going over the matter as carefully as I am capable of doing, and after having taken counsel with the best men I know with regard to it, I have reached the conclusion that I must not accept the high position offered me by the diocese of Kentucky. I have consulted with men who urgently advised me to accept, as well as with those who have shared my own feelings that at present my duty is in the office of the board of missions, so that I believe my conclusion has been reached fairly as may be. I trust it is right.

Convinced indeed that this is the case, I have the comfortable assurance that, while my decision must cause the diocese inconvenience and present loss, it will really be for the blessing and benefit of the church in that diocese. Since it is right for me to remain where I am, then it is clear that the diocese has not yet learned what is the mind of the Master with regard to it. Nor is there any doubt that He will lead His church to a right choice. It is a comfortable thought that I should be able to serve you here, since my intercessions may be added to those of many that He will direct and bless His church. I want you to be sure that I have not been unmindful of the solemn responsibility involved in my decision. I could not have assumed this except under conviction that I must, in order that I may do what it is my duty to do. This being the case, He will Himself help me to bear it.

Will you not make your committee, and through them the church in Kentucky, know how I value the expression of their confidence in me, as shown in this election, and how much I regret the necessity that compels me to subjoin them to further inconvenience, and yet there is no other means by which the right man can be found for your diocese, and so they will be glad to bear it. May He direct His church to a right choice. Very truly yours,

COURT WAS HELD ON THE ISLAND

Judge Lightfoot Attends a Unique Trial.

Noted Casey Towhead Suit Tried and Decided By a Wickliffe Magistrate.

THE PLAINTIFF WON SUIT

County Judge Lightfoot has returned from Mount City, Ill. The Casey Towhead lawsuit, an action of forcible entry and detainer brought by the attorneys of the heirs of the late Dr. Newton B. Casey, against Mrs. H. A. McCormick, was tried on the towhead, just above Mount City, and Judge Lightfoot was one of the attorneys.

The magistrate presiding was Justice W. M. Powell, of Wickliffe, Ky., and the case was heard and decided by a jury of six men, all of Ballard county, Ky. L. M. Bradley, of Mount City, and John Wickliffe, of Wickliffe, Ky., were counsel for the Casey heirs and Judge Lightfoot of Paducah, appeared for Mrs. McCormick, the defendant. The jury deliberated only about fifteen minutes and returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

Mrs. McCormick took immediate steps for an appeal to the circuit court at Ballard county, Ky., by executing an appeal bond.

According to the law in such cases, Mrs. McCormick may remain the occupant of the little house until the case is decided in the higher court, which convenes in Wickliffe in January next, provided she procures her suit with effect; but the Casey heirs still retain and will exercise complete control at the land and the claim. The appeal bond is made to insure the owners of the property against any damage it might sustain by being improperly used or any loss that might occur through the actions of the appellee, between the present and the term time of the circuit court.

THE RIGHT OF WAY HAS BEEN GRANTED

Ordinance for Electric Railroad
Given First Passage.

Board of Works Ordered to Go Ahead
With Storm Water Sewerage
Work on Kentucky.

OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

The regular meeting of the board of aldermen last night found all the members in their seats except Alderman Singleton.

Money for the registration officers was ordered paid to Treasurer Dorian. A number of them have already called to their money.

The mayor was authorized to issue warrants for whatever per cent of money was due contractors on the new market house and city hospital.

The matter of paying for the sidewalk along Fifth street in front of the government building was referred to the city auditor. The city can't be gully pay it and the government won't.

The joint hospital committee was authorized to make a sale of the old timber and other material taken from the old house where the new city hospital is being built.

The ordinance committee was instructed to confer with the city engineer relative to properly numbering the houses throughout the city, the present way of numbering them being unsatisfactory. The postoffice employees here have long sought to have the houses numbered better to facilitate the delivery of mail, but have never been successful.

The regular bills and salaries were allowed.

The ordinance for improving an alley between Boyd, Trimble and Tenth was referred back to the committee.

The ordinance for the sale of a telephone franchise was referred back for changes.

The electric railway ordinance was given first passage. The right-of-way is the same as asked—up Eighth to Clay down Clay to Third and up Third to Broadway.

The water company reported that it has extended its mains on Tenth street from Boyd to Flournoy.

J. N. Bushart's coffee house license was transferred to Ben Allen.

A number of transfers of Oak Grove lots were ordered.

Over-assessment of property belonging to Martin Graham, on Buchanan street was reported by City Engineer Washington, and the matter was referred.

In regard to building storm water sewerage on Kentucky avenue, as usual some wanted one thing and thought one way, and others another. It was finally decided to leave the matter to the board of works, with power to build as much as it deems advisable, and let the question of payment come up when the work is done.

The board of aldermen refused to allow Mrs. Hinchett $100 for extra nurse hire. The council allowed it.

The board of public works was authorized to have telephone poles and wires removed from Broadway, as the telephone and telegraph companies haven't moved them.

It was ordered that an ordinance making the distance of awnings above the sidewalks at least eight feet, be brought in.

A request from Mrs. J. R. Coubour for permission to erect a one-room frame house to her home on Washington street near Fourth, was referred to the committee.

On complaint of Inspector Warner, the ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance making it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine for butlers to "blow up" meat. Inspector Warner says the practice tends to spread disease, and is a filthy practice as well.

Alderman Smith brought up the matter of preventing a transfer of saloon license. It was stated that the committee already had up the advisability of such an ordinance, and in addition could tempt the introduction of an ordinance to prevent anyone taking out a saloon license for less than a year.

The board then adjourned.

ALLEGED ROBBERY

ALFRED THREET ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE TODAY.

Alfred Threet, colored, employed at the Hayes drug store at Seventh and Broadway as porter, was arrested this morning by Officers Cross and Terrell on the charge of robbery.

It is alleged that yesterday while Dithloe Boumpous, colored, was attending a dance at the home of Addie Scott, near Ninth and Harris streets, and was in a drunken stupor on a bed in the house, Threet robbed him of $14 in money. It is known, it is claimed, that Boumpous tried to borrow a knife with which to cut the sleeping man's pocket, but not getting one, he is alleged to have run his hand into Boumpous's pocket and secured the money.

The case will come up for trial tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock before Police Judge D. L. Sanders.

SHORTER HOURS

On Account of Early Darkness
They are Cut to 9 Hours

A Bulletin Posted in the I. C. Shops
This Morning.

On account of darkness which comes shortly after 5 o'clock this season of the year, the working hours in the local Illinois Central shops have been cut from ten to nine hours a day, effective this morning.

When the workmen came to work this morning they found a bulletin posted announcing this change. With the change comes the resumption of the old working hour code. The men will now go to work at 7 o'clock and work until 12 and begin at 1 and work until 5, this making the nine hours. Heretofore, on account of fast approaching darkness, detrimental to the shop men, the time for beginning and quitting work was changed. The men went to work ten minutes earlier in the morning and quit at 12. In the afternoon they began twenty minutes earlier and worked until 3:30, this making up the extra half hour and not requiring them to work until 5 o'clock.

The forces in the wood working department are being slowly but steadily increased. Every day from two to four men are added. The work in this department is very heavy and orders have been received to get all rolling stock in service possible.

NOT THE MAN

NEGRO ARRESTED HERE RE-LEASED BY POLICE.

Henry Patton, colored, the negro who was arrested here several days ago on suspicion of being wanted in Owensboro for a felony, has been released, he proving to be the wrong person.

It was thought that Patton was Abe Jones, wanted at Owensboro, and the description of the negro arrested here and the one of the Owensboro men tallied nearly exactly. A picture was sent to the Owensboro authorities who telegraphed here that they thought he was the right man, but Patton had in the meantime proved his identity and was released.

ECZEMA ON LITTLE GIRL

Sleepless Nights for Mother and Awful Suffering of Child.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Had Given up All Hope of Ever
Making Any Cure.

"My little girl has been suffering for two years or more from eczema, and during that time I could not get a night's sleep, as her ailment was very severe."

"I had tried so many remedies and spent much money, deriving no benefit. I had absolutely given up all hope of making any cure. But as a last resort I was persuaded to try a set of the Cuticura remedies, and to my great delight a marked change was manifested from the first application. I gave the child a bath with Cuticura Soap, using a soft piece of muslin cloth. This I did twice a day, each time following with the Cuticura Ointment, and at the same time gave the Keen-cut, according to directions. One box of the Ointment and two bottles of the Keen-cut, together with the Soap, effected a permanent cure. I submit this for publication if you desire, hoping it will add to your success and assist so many thousands of sufferers in curing themselves." Mrs. I. B. JONES, ABBINGTON, IND. T.

The first step in the treatment of the chronic form is to remove the scales and crusts and soften the skin, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap. The scalp, ears, elbows, hands, ankles and feet will require frequently a thorough soaking in order to penetrate the thickened skin and crusts with which these parts are often covered. Dry carefully, and apply Cuticura Ointment, lightly at first, and where advisable spread it on pieces of soft cloth and bind in place. Take the Keen-cut, pills, or liquid, in medium doses. Do not use cold water in bathing, and avoid cold, raw winds.

London, Oct. 21.—The Indian Office announces that the Ameer of Afghanistan proposes to send his eldest son to meet Lord Curzon of Kedleston on his return to India, and will receive at Kabul an officer sent by the Indian government authorized to discuss with the Ameer questions concerning the relations between the two governments.

The London newspapers this morning express great satisfaction at the opportunity thus selected by the Ameer for such a meeting, which is intended to remove apprehensions and consolidate British Indian relations with Afghanistan. The Ameer's decision is supposed to be connected with recent suggestions of the Russian press in favor of a Russian military demonstration on the Afghanistan frontier.

CHARLESTON ON AND ROYAL OFF

The Joppa Boat, Condon, Is Also Hard Aground Now.

The Lyda Was Sent Down to Relieve
Her—A Small Rise Is Here
Now.

RIVER NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

There is still no prospect of hoisting picking up for the river men. Today it was learned from a telephone message that the Charleston, which left yesterday morning at 8 o'clock for Cairo, and was the first boat to leave this week, was aground on Sharpe's, below Joppa. There is no boat about there to render her any aid, and it is not known when she will get off. She was unable to get to Cairo, and nothing had been heard from her until this morning, when a long distance telephone message was received concerning her.

The Condon is also aground near Joppa. She does the harbor work for the Chicago and Eastern Illinois at Joppa, and as soon as it became evident that she could not be released, a telephone message was sent to Paducah and the Lyda went down to do her work.

One of the boats that had been aground for two weeks or more, the Royal, is off. She managed to get away from the bar that secretly held her, on the present small rise, and is up about Smithland, but is expected here today. The John Summers, which got aground about the same time, is still hard and fast.

The Evansville and Paducah packet John S. Hopkins, which has been aground for several months at Shawneetown, Ill., is now thirty feet or more from any water, high and dry. It is not thought she will be much damaged, however. It will take considerable of a rise to float her.

Captain J. Frank Ellison, of Cincinnati, who is to take the Queen City up as soon as the river rises, is in the city again today. Captain Ellison has been conferring with the owners of the Dick Fowler, relative to getting her in the Cincinnati and Mayville trade. No definite announcement has been made of what conclusion has been reached.

The river rose about one-tenth of a foot again last night, making it .6 of a foot on the gauge. This is about all that is expected here at present. The rise has not been sufficient to do much good.

The City of Charleston got back from Elizabethtown, Ill., yesterday and went out again today. She is about the only boat running now.

The Bob Dudley is still at the bottom of the river, but hard work is being done on her, and she is expected to be raised and brought here for repairs at any time.

The big Sprague has completed her repairs at Pittsburg, and is now a better boat than she ever was. The Pittsburg leader says: "The shaft of the big steamer Sprague was again placed in position yesterday. The cylinder timbers of the boat have been greatly strengthened by covering them with sheet steel, which will, it is expected, take up a great deal of the vibration and enable the boat to see her full power. The shaft, which weighs eighty tons, was put in place under the direction of A. J. Schaaf, chief engineer of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, and is considered a very skillful piece of work. The wheel will now be built, and the big boat will be ready to take out a tow on the first rise."

The J. W. Thomas is on the way at Mallison. She was stuck at Blino river and raised.

CURES CHILLS AND FEVER.
H. W. Wright, Naasogdies, Texas, says: "My daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till he used Hebline. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c.

WITH CAIRO, TOO

Dates Arranged for Football
Games With Egyptians.

All Is Ready For the Contests With Mayfield Tomorrow.

This afternoon the final practice game of the Paducah High school football team will be held, and tomorrow afternoon at a o'clock at the ball park, the Paducah and Mayfield teams will meet in the first battle of the season in Paducah.

The Mayfield boys are said to be much bigger than the Paducah boys, but the locals say they have a very good team and, while muscled right in weight have practiced much and have the score the parts of the game down to a fine point.

The lineup of the local team for tomorrow's game, which will start at 2 o'clock is as follows:
Guard: Fredrick, left end; David Venable, right tackle; Tommie Colburn, right guard; Brent Jones, center; Willie Bell, left guard; Salem Cape, left tackle; Robert Bailey, right end; Felix St. John, left half; Grover Burns, captain and full back; Hennelberger, right half, and Carl Leigh, quarter back.

Tommie Colburn, sporting editor of the high school paper, has received a formal challenge and request for a date with the Cairo High school basketball and football teams, for the 12th at Cairo and the date will be arranged. The Cairo teams agree to come to Paducah on the 19th of the Paducah team to Cairo on the 22nd. Both dates have been accepted and this insures two more games after tomorrow for the locals.

If the football is given the same recognition and patronage here as it has been given for the past two seasons, it is likely that games will be arranged with Murray and Princeton and other nearby towns where football teams are organized.

PUT OFF

WILLIAM LIGHTFOOT WILL GET NO TRIAL AT THIS TERM.

This morning Attorney Dave Cross received a telegram from Memphis saying that the case against William Lightfoot, colored, charged with murder, has been continued until next term by the commonwealth and that he need not come to Memphis to appear for the defense.

Lightfoot is the negro arrested here on the charge of killing a young man in Tennessee, a few miles out of Memphis, by striking him with some heavy instrument and throwing his remains out of the car. Lightfoot proved no alibi by several reliable colored people here and also in Memphis, but the defendant was given a death sentence. The court granted a new trial when appealed and the case was to have come to trial again Wednesday.

INTERESTING EVENT

WAS THE STOVE DRAWING OF
THE RHODES-BURFORD COMPANY THURSDAY AFTER-NOON.

One passing along Fourth street between Broadway and Jefferson yesterday afternoon wondered where the crowd came from that lined the sidewalks on the east side of Fourth street and what they were doing there. At least he would have been at a loss for an explanation if he happened to be one of those very few people in the city who do not read the newspapers.

The crowd was attracted by the drawing conducted by the Rhodes-Burford Company, in which they gave away a heating stove. There were at the least five hundred people on hand to witness the event and the interest was intense. The crowd began to gather about 3 o'clock and at 4, the hour of the drawing, the store and the sidewalk in front of the store was crowded with men and women.

Mr. A. J. Wyatt, 206 North Sixth street held the lucky number, 997, and was awarded the stove, a Buck's Hot Blast Heater.

The cooking exhibitions being conducted each day are attracting big crowds. The ladies of the Catholic church are conducting the one today and the Home Mission Society of the Broadway Methodist church will have charge of the one tomorrow.

LOST HIS MONEY

YOUNG RAILROAD MAN HAS HARD LUCK.

Mr. John Brookshire, of Twelfth and Ohio streets, employed in the local Illinois Central blacksmith shop as helper, had the misfortune to lose the greater part of his money yesterday.

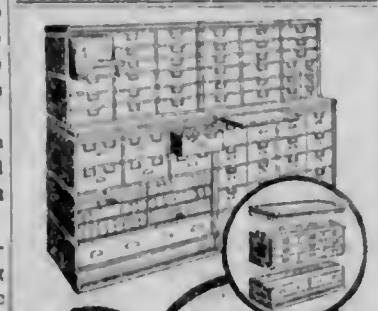

He had received his check at the pay car yesterday morning and when the noon hour came went home. After dinner he started for the Bienerman grocery at Seventh and Washington streets and had his check cashed. He paid the grocer what he owed him and pocketed $34 in change, $2 being in silver and $32 in gold.

The young man was in a hurry to return to work and as he had little time, hurriedly shoved the money to his outside coat pocket which had a hole in it. While crossing the hollows at the end of Washington street he dropped the money and it fell into his pocket but he did not notice it until he had gained the shops. He returned and found the two dollars silver but failed to find the gold.

THE BEST DOCTOR.
Rev. H. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Texas, writes, July 19th, 1899: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Rheumatism Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

NOTHING YET

ADJUSTORS EXPECTED AT ANY TIME FOR THE REHKOPF LOSS.

Mr. E. Rehkopf still declines to say whether or not his firm is likely to move from Paducah. The insurance adjustors for the various companies interested have not yet arrived, and are expected to all come at once.

Chief Wood and his firemen have received from the Rehkopf firm a handsome lap robe as a token of their work at the fire. The presents being accompanied by the following: "With hearts filled with gratitude for good work done, we wish to thank Chief Wood and his efficient firemen for their prompt and energetic work at our fire."

"The location where the fire broke out was such that the firemen were at a disadvantage in fighting it, but all showed excellent discipline and soon brought it under control. If every department of the city showed the same zeal, she would have a record of which she could justly be proud. (Signed.)

"E. REHKOPF SADDLERY COMPANY."

SAVED HIS LIFE.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty-cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

250 IN THIS PICTURE.

All employees of the wood-working department of the local Illinois Central shops, yesterday had their picture taken together. A traveling photographer entered the shops and made arrangements to take the force for several different views, in separate benches and as a whole. There were over 250 men in the big picture, the first to be taken in many years.

CHANGED TODAY

MONEY ORDER AND STAMP DE-PARTMENTS NOW IN A NEW PLACE.

This morning patrons of the post-office found that the stamp and money order windows that had been in use for so many years, were closed, and further investigation revealed the fact that the clerks in charge of these departments were located in new quarters—just a short distance beyond, through a corridor in the northeastern corner of the building.

The new room is an improvement over the old quarters and the clerks are glad of the change. It is not believed that it will take the public long to get used to the change. The old windows will be closed and the signs removed.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Saturday.

MR. BRYAN'S CHANGE OF FRONT.

Mr. Bryan is speaking for the democratic ticket, but who believes that he is sincere? How much good can he do for a cause that he has so repeatedly and unreservedly repudiated? Can he ask men now to vote for something he has been warning them against for eight years, and expect them to do it?

It was not long ago that this same Mr. Bryan, who is now speaking for Judge Parker and sound money, said in a speech:

"There is no power enough in heaven above, or earth beneath, or in hell below to make me vote for a gold standard man."

Mr. Bryan, in direct reference to Judge Parker, the man whose election he is now advocating, said in a speech at Chicago, Ill., this year:

"I am sanguine enough to believe that I can prove to every unbiased mind that Judge Parker is not a fit man to be nominated by the democratic party or any other party that stands for honesty and fair dealing in politics. I cannot hope to convince those who favor deception and fraud in politics, but I am satisfied that we now have evidence sufficient to convict Judge Parker of absolute unfitness for the nomination."

Mr. Bryan also said of the New York platform, which is practically the same as the national democratic platform:

"The New York platform is ambiguous, uncertain, evasive and dishonest. It would disgrace the democrats of the nation to adopt such a platform, and it ought to defeat as an aspirant for a democratic nomination any man who would be willing to have it go forth as a declaration of his views on public questions. In Illinois, in Wisconsin, in Michigan, in Minnesota, in Indiana, in Ohio, and in every other state that has not acted, it behooves the democrats to arouse themselves and organize to end that they may prevent the consummation of the schemes of the reorganizers. Their scheme begins with the deception of the rank and file of the party."

It is to be followed up by the debauching fund secured from the corporations, and it is to be consummated by the betrayal of the party into the hands of those who are today menacing the liberties of the country by their exploitation of the producers of wealth."

Yet the democrats did adopt such a platform, and they did it at the dictation of the same men who forced the New York platform down the throat of the people. And Mr. Bryan is now out speaking in behalf of the supremacy of those same men and those same principles!

Mr. Bryan is coming to Kentucky. Let him come. He is known here, and he has many loyal admirers here. But he cannot induce them to vote the democratic ticket this year, or convince them that Mr. Bryan himself is not out working for the ticket solely for the effect it will have on his future political prospects.

An overwhelming majority of the American people believe in a strong navy and a well organized, small army. They will prove it on November 8.

It might be more encouraging to Judge Parker if he could find a precedent showing that the voters of the country have ever favored a sensible policy.

Republicans are running their campaign on the main highway, while the democrats are becoming mired down in the road through the woods.

The democratic party is suffering from an acute attack of intellectual indigestion.

TO BREED CAMELS

The Ranch is to be Established
by Showman Willie Sells.

The Camels Will Be Captured in a Big Hunt in Arizona.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 20.—On the banks of the Arkansas river in Kearney county, Kan., the only camel breeding ranch in the world is soon to be established. The most remarkable fact in connection with this new industry is that the animals which are to be used in establishing the ranch are to be captured from the herd of wild camels in Arizona and Mexico.

This camel hunt will be the second one ever held in America. The first was under the direction of Allen Sells, the famous showman, and resulted in the capture of nineteen camels. The second hunt will be conducted by his son, Willie Sells, who has made a fortune in the circus business, and who recently received $125,000 from his father's estate, after a stubborn fight in the courts. The son was only ten years old at the time of the former hunt, but he remembers the details, and he will not vary from the plan executed by his father.

The wild camels of Arizona and Mexico are the remnant of two herds of the animal, turned loose to shift for themselves thirty or forty years ago. The first animals were given their liberty by the government after an unsuccessful attempt to use them in carrying government stores across the Arizona deserts. Later a Frenchman who used camels on these deserts had his furskins destroyed by the transcontinental railway, and he turned his hand to the desert. As recently as two months ago some of these animals were seen in Arizona and Mexico. Thomas McHugh, a friend of the Sells family, living near Gila Bend, Ariz., reported having seen them.

Willie Sells was present at the hunt which his father conducted for the camels, and he knows how to find and capture them. He says attempts have been made to capture members of the herd since that time, but the men engaged in the business had no experience in handling the game for which they searched.

A Report Was Received On the

ARE REMOVING THE POLES

The board of public works, from the statement of members today, will let the contract immediately for the building of storm water sewers on Kentucky avenue from First to Fifth, and probably recommend at the proper time, when the bill comes in, that it be paid for out of the city funds. No one seems to take any stock in the mayor's suggestion that the property owners be assessed for this part of the streets, which they have to pay half of, already. Storm water pipes are merely a part of a brick or asphalt street, and are not sewers in the strict sense of the word, but drains, a street, and without which a street cannot be reconstructed.

The storm water sewerage already constructed in Paducah is fifteen blocks long for the blocks paved under Patter's contract. Four blocks recently built by Contractor Charles Robertson, on Broadway, and seven blocks under the Terrell contract. The work was all done at the expense of the city. Mayor Veis was mayor when eleven of the blocks were constructed and never raised the question until now. It is probable the contract for the work will be let at once.

The telephone and telegraph companies claim that they are getting their wires off Broadway from Fifth to Ninth as rapidly as possible. The East Tennessee company has already removed most of its lines from Second to Fifth, and it was stated at board headquarters today would get the others off as soon as possible.

Mr. J. R. Terrell, of Nashville, superintendent of the Western Union for this district arrived this morning to inspect local work and do all possible to get the Western Union lines out of the way. Mr. W. L. Slater, of Louisville, superintendent of the Postal will arrive today on the same mission.

The Postal company now comes from Fourth and Monroe to Fourth and Third way, and down Broadway to Second. It desires to construct a line of its own from Fourth and Monroe to Second and Monroe, and from Second and Monroe to Second and Broadway. The board of works will today give the company the desired permission for this new line and its wires will then be removed from Broadway. None of the companies have any desire to ignore the new ordinance and claim they are getting their wires down as rapidly as possible.

The board of works, however, claim they have had several months' time, and the ordinances were passed quite a while ago.

A report has been received from Expert Humphrey, of St. Louis, by the board of public works relative to the needs of the city light plant. Mr. Humphrey was told what the city wanted and has tabulated a report of the cost. The board of works, not having taken up the report, will not give out its contents. It is stated, however, that temporary purchases and repairs to the plant would cost between $12,000 and $15,000, and permanent improvements to give the desired capacity would cost not more than $20,000. It is probable that the board will advocate the issue of about $20,000 in bonds for the improvement, which would enable the city to make the desired improvements next year. Under the new charter under $20,000 in bonds may be issued for such purposes without a vote of the people.

Manager Ingram, of the Nashville Paving and Roofing company, arrived today, and with Supt. Nichols, who arrived day before yesterday, is here to begin work of paving Broadway, and to put it after it is begun. They are now looking for an office room where they will have their headquarters while doing work in Paducah.

THROWN OUT

Suits Against Chief Collins and Others Dismissed.

They Originated From Arrests of Several Persons on Suspicion.

This morning in circuit court the case of Mary, Alice and Maggie Ross and J. T. Briggman against Chief of Police James Collins, Captain Joe Woods, Lieutenant Frank Harlan and Officers E. A. Ross, James Brennan and J. W. Clark for $5,000 against each defendant, for alleged illegal arrest, was dismissed without prejudice by Attorney J. M. Werten, who brought the suit.

The history of the case is interesting. The Ross and Briggmans were living in a tent on Livingston Point when they were visited one night and brought to the city hall. A couple of trunks were taken, the officers, it is stated, suspecting them of having stolen goods. But after an investigation of the case the case was released.

They sued for damages on the grounds that no warrant was issued.

The officers had no fear of the result of the suits from the first. They knew they had acted with authority, and the only thing they didn't like was the expense of fighting the suits, and of the annoyance to their handsomeness.

It is understood that the plaintiffs, who lived on a shanty boat, some time ago quietly weighed anchor and went back to that dear old "Carthageville, Mo."

In the case of James Doolin and others against Officers Gus Rogers and Wm. Johnson, for $10,000 for alleged false arrest, Judge Reed, compelled the attorney to elect which defendant he would sue as he could not legally sue both Judge Werten elected Officer Gus Rogers and his bondsmen and Johnson and his bondsmen were dismissed from the suit.

There is another suit pending, that is Leslie Owen against the same defendants, but no action was taken as the plaintiff is in St. Louis. It is more than probable that the same action will be taken in this case as in the above, and that Officer Johnson and his bondsmen will be released.

He says he once dreamed that he was in the vicinity of the party gates and saw two ladies approaching, seeking entrance.

"Where are you from?" asked St. Peter.

"We're both from Boston," replied one of the ladies.

"Well, you can come in," said St. Peter, "but you won't like it." A variation of the same anecdote is the story of a Boston woman who had passed within the gates and was taking her first look around.

"It is very nice," she exclaimed, "very nice, indeed, but" this with a sigh "it isn't Boston."

GROVER FOR BUCHANAN

He Was Early Impressed by the "Mature, Undramatic and Experienced" Man.

Judge Parker Calls For the Votes of Young Men, Just as the After-war President Did.

From the Philadelphia Press. Ex-President Grover Cleveland has contributed an article to the Saturday Evening Post urging young men casting their first vote to give it to Judge Parker, because when Cleveland was young and enthusiastic he was impressed and stimulated as a boy by the canvass of that "mature, undramatic and experienced Buchanan."

It is a good reason. We thank Mr. Cleveland for it. He evidently looks on Parker as a sort of "mature, undramatic, experienced Buchanan." We would not have liked to say as little a thing as this of the Democratic candidate, but we accept it.

Judge Parker calls for a young man's vote exactly as in 1860 did the "mature, undramatic, experienced Buchanan." The two men are similar. Mr. Cleveland is right. What Buchanan, the weakest of American presidents, was, Judge Parker doubtless would be, as Mr. Cleveland acutely and accurately suggests.

Like Buchanan, Judge Parker at all times yields to party pressure. Just as Buchanan was reticent on the great issues of his day, but could always be trusted to vote for any man nominated, so Judge Parker has been silent and voted for Bryan twice. Buchanan was deep through many years in party politics. So was Judge Parker. He suits the South. Judge Parker is the southern candidate. Judge Parker is silent on the wrongs of the negro. So was Buchanan. Both were nominated because they had no record. Buchanan was called the "Pennsylvania Spinning." So with Judge Parker. Both have been irreverently called innocents.

A "mature, undramatic, experienced Buchanan" is a very close definition of Judge Parker. He is, as his strong supporter and early sponsor suggests, that kind of a man and makes the appeal now Buchanan did then. Any young man who wants a Buchanan kind of president ought to vote for Parker.

He will see, as Grover Cleveland saw, when in all the flush, hope and enthusiasm of youth he went wholly, wofully wrong in his choice of a president at the very moment of the nation's crisis, at the instant and hour of ailing fate, a president who, to accept Grover Cleveland's parallel, will be a "mature, undramatic and experienced Buchanan."

What was Buchanan? A president weak, vacillating and timid—silent because he had nothing to say, and deemed by some "dignified" because he dared say nothing. His weakness led him into straits where he was only saved from being held a traitor because instead men held him irresolute, incapable and without principle. No great cause appealed to him. No great crisis aroused. He, too, the "mature, undramatic and experienced Buchanan" was always talking of the "constitution" and dodging issues that called trumpet tongue for decision by prating about the rights and powers of the states.

Solemnly we say to any young man meditating his first vote, accepting Grover Cleveland's definition and parallel, not ours: If you want the next president to be another "mature, undramatic, experienced Buchanan," with all that Buchanan was, vote for Judge Parker! He is that kind of a man, and, being so, he may be trusted to make that kind of a president.

Lincoln on Colonization and Expediency.

[From the New York Sun.] If the Hon. Edward M. Shepard or any other Democratic orator is really anxious to measure by "the acts or utterances" of Abraham Lincoln the Republican policy with regard to the acquisition of foreign territory, said orator will find in the annual message of Dec. 3, 1861, Mr. Lincoln's opinion on the subject, briefly but clearly stated:

"Having practiced the acquisition of territory for nearly sixty years, the question of constitutional power to do so is no longer an open one with us." Mr. Lincoln was not referring to the acquisition of adjoining territory with a view to its ultimate erection into a statehood. He was discussing a plan of colonization for the benefit of the free colored people already in the United States and the slave who might be liberated "at some place or places in a remote congenial to them." He said further:

"To carry out the plans of colonization may involve the acquiring of territory, and also the appropriation of money beyond that to be expended in the territorial acquisition. . . . On this whole proposition, including the appropriation of money with the acquisition of territory, does not the expediency amount to absolute necessity—that without which the government itself cannot be perpetuated?"

How Lincoln would have been denounced for his ideas of colonization and expediency as the supreme law if some of the orators now devoting their attention to McKinley, Roosevelt, Hay and Wood had been vocal forty five years ago!

If called upon to that end by the president The Times will say this for Mr. Roosevelt, as it has before had occasion to say: That no Republican president since the war has been more considerate of Alabama in selecting incumbents for the federal offices in this state. It took Mr. Washington less than a month to secure a privilege that has made him a party to this result. The Times for one recognizes as a predicate for a criticism which presumes him in any other than that one in which he is referred to as a man whose who has trained the followers of his race in politics which thread in better ends than those which lead through the dangers and ruin of politics.

When Horace Greeley was editor of the New York Tribune he printed some statement in the editorial columns of that paper and accompanied it with the following laconic reply: "You lie, you villain!" The men who invent political falsehoods in a campaign are liars, and it were well if all reputable people stigmatized them and their false reports accordingly.

POINTS TO BE SEEN.

Those who are insisting that David H. Hill is the Democratic party's old man of the sea are kindly requested to bear in mind that the party does not need one in this campaign. It is its own burden.—Boston Journal.

An Esopus boy swallowed a Parker button the other day and suffered intensely until it was removed. There is at least one person in this country who now knows exactly how Mr. Bryan must feel.—Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle.

The average number of failures during the last Democratic administration was about 14,000 annually. Since 1897, with a large increase in the number of business concerns, the average has been between 10,000 and 11,000 annually.—Vallejo Chronicle.

Of course, if Judge Parker is incompetent to measure swords with the alert and daring Roosevelt, or if the Democratic party is incapable of slugging its differences and afraid of making a front attack on the enemy's trenchments, lost for lack of cohesion and discipline it may break in pieces again. It might as well retire from the contest at once and become a dishonored reminiscence.—Boston Herald.

"Stand pat!" is a good cry. We prefer it and all that it means—open mills, good wages for the workmen, protection for American citizens when abroad, new markets in the far east, the Panama canal and a navy capable of defending it—to the uncertain administration of a party whose capacity for governing in the future can be measured only by its utter incapacity and failures of the past.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Irish sentiment will naturally preponderate in favor of Theodore Roosevelt, whose personality and most marked traits are strikingly akin to what we most glory in the Irish character. He has personal independence, pluck, impulsiveness, athletic ability and physical courage. Mr. Roosevelt has a strong current of Irish blood in his veins, and it bubbles over sometimes strongly resembling a real Irishman. Nor has he forgotten what he owes to the Irish traits in him. He is a member of the Irish Historical society and takes a pride in many other things with an Irish side to them. He has always extended the courtesies of his great office to the representatives of our race who have visited this country from time to time. No man can point a finger of suspicion at the honesty of his official career. Judge Parker may be a very nice man, but what has he ever done to appeal to us as Theodore Roosevelt does?—Irish-American Advocate.

Did His Own Telling.
In her new book, "A Story of the Red Cross," just issued by the Appletons, Clara Barton tells the following recollection of an encounter she had with Theodore Roosevelt in Cuba:

"Early in the day there came to our improvised headquarters an officer in khaki uniform showing hard service and a bandanna handkerchief hanging from his belt to protect the back of his head and neck from the fierce rays of the sun."
"It was Colonel Roosevelt, and we were very glad to meet the gallant leader of the rough riders. After a few moments' conversation he said: 'I have some sick men with my regiment who refuse to leave it. They need such delicacies as you have here, which I am ready to pay for out of my own pocket. Can I buy them from the Red Cross?'"

"Not for a million of dollars," Dr. Gardner replied.
"But my men need these things," he said, his tone and face expressing anxiety. "I think a great deal of my men. I am proud of them."
"And we know they are proud of you, colonel. But we can't sell Red Cross supplies," said Dr. Gardner.

"Then how can I get them? I must have proper food for my sick men," he said.
"Just ask for them, colonel," replied Dr. Gardner.

"Oh," he said, his face suddenly lighting with a bright smile, "then I do ask for them."
"All right, colonel. What is your list, and when will you send for these supplies?" asked Dr. Gardner. "They will be ready any time."
"Lend me a sack and I'll take them right along," he answered, with characteristic decision.

"Dr. Gardner at once looked up a sack, and when filled it must have held a good many pounds of supplies. Before he had recovered from our surprise the incident was closed by the future president of the United States slinging the big sack over his shoulder and striding off and out of sight through the jungle."

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure For It.

Catarh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to indigestion. The usual symptoms are a full bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing a pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, flabby appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a shiny, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarh of condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Bismuth, Aspic, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stant's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stant's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stant's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

"Yes, and if she did?"

He laughed a jarring, mirthless laugh.

"Why, then, I, who have failed to win her with a simple soldier's name, should wish her joy of the fust of her title?"

"You mistake," she cried passionately.

"An you were the king himself I would not look at you. The man I love I would have the same were he poor and nameless and of no repute—aye, a laborer in the fields instead of the noblemen he is!"

A voice in the hall struck across the quivering tones.

"Hush! a bottle of my best champagne, and stir your bones about it. Come in, come in, my friends. We shall have a glass to this, I promise you."

The door opened, and "Colonel" Williamson came forward, looking in the face of the startled guests with a calm smile.

"Ah, here you are, Anne, introduced in the dusk with reinforcements, eh? Well, the battle is over, and I have encircled."

She had raised her hand to stop him "Hush," she warned, "you have a job!"

"The colonel stopped at sight of the other in some confusion."

"Why," he exclaimed, "I am indeed sorry! Hush! you black rascal, why did you not tell me the captain was here?"

"I did not call to bear a message to your grace, colonel," Jarrat answered.

"I have delivered it. I must offer apologies for being an intruder at such a moment."

"But," said the colonel, "Hush! set that tray here. Another glass for the captain. Captain, we drink to your happiness to a fair woman and a gallant cavalier!"

Jarrat raised the slim glass with its topaz liquid, and his smile lingered darkly on Anne's face, still anger white. The smile had a quality that made her shiver.

"A fair woman," he repeated, "and—a noble gentleman! What more pleasant toast?"

Now must I leave you and back to Williamsburg. Mistress, I kiss your hand. Myself, my most little flatterations. Colonel, I beg you will not disturb yourself. I will get my horse myself. Gentlemen, I bid you good day."

CHAPTER XI.

THE feast in Virginia was given in the hall. Again and again the lordly Earl of Dunmore presided over the assembly on the pretext of popular excitement.

The fortress surrounded with a bay, and the tides played in their town houses. Dunmore thought himself a diplomat and went on winning his Tory friends at the palace. But under the music was an ominous muttering.

News came of the king's speech on the opening of parliament. The colonel's protests were "unwarmed attempts to obstruct the unwelcome of this kingdom by unlawful combinations," and showed "a most daring spirit of resistance and disobedience to the law."

This pronouncement was received in Williamsburg with an intense astonishment.

And what, meantime, had Henry been doing?

Restless, eager, he had ridden hither and thither like a shadow—attending, overseeing the election of the committee recommended by the congress, at Albert's party over late with Jefferson, mulling north and south in a net work of nerves, inhaling, tireless and unflinching.

It was a thing to note, since rebellion commonly springs from the people rather than from the quality, that it was contrary in Virginia. There the aristocracy was not Tory. There were few enough, like my Lord Fairfax, who, born noble, held nobly to their loyalty. Those who held with the king, besides the fond fathers, were for the most part the lower classes, officeholders, tradesmen who looked for sales, lawyers just over from London. The staunchest rebels were the great landed planters. Sedition was in the club room and the parlor. One must in the tavern bar for toasts to the king.

And so came about this strange thing: That Williamsburg, the miniature copy of the court of St. James, aping the manners of the royal palace, its old church graveyard and college chapel standing for Westminster abbey and St. Paul's—that this spot should prove "the heart of the rebellion." If this fact alone remained it might well make the world wonder at the enduring blindness of the king's ministers and whether God had not indeed covered their eyes because he would have it so.

It was little George cured for the actions of the first congress, halting, ineffectual, or for the pettiness of British merchants. He had set his jaw. In vain the Earl of Chatham moved in the house of lords to withdraw the troops from Boston. Instead the colonel received a bill offering pardon to repentant rebels, and the patriots of Virginia bowed with shocked surprise that this exception Patrick Henry?

On the day this news was printed in the Williamsburg Gazette Henry and Jefferson met at Albert's and set out on horseback for Richmond. There, in St. John's church, the new Virginia convention, mindful of the bloody threats of the shouter governor, had elected to meet, and thither had gone a half of Williamsburg, leaving Dunmore with his troops at his palace to bite his nails in impotent anger.

The 23d of March dawned over Richmond's inviolated castle in a quivering haze of intense blue, where cloud puffs swam like lazily pluming swans. Anne had arrived the night before at eleven and drove in that morning in the hazy dawn. Spring was up, the earth quick with it. All along the way wild orch apple blossoms danced with clinging bees, and by the snake fence rows of peach trees had pitched their tents of bloom.

She met Henry in front of the Indian Queen inn and walked with him up toward the churchyard, now filling with a vast throng.

"Tell me," she questioned eagerly, "Will it come today?"

He looked down at her with that rare smile which seemed to be the higher part of him, gliding and transfiguring his other self. "What faith you have in me?" he said.

"I know," she answered. "I have seen it in your face. No one in Virginia can do it save you—none of them. It must be the voice before the arm."

"The spark before the explosion," he muttered, "and the train beneath it." His hands moved restlessly.

"I have longed—prayed for some new event of tomorrow that should be a spark to powder. But he lies low. And it must come from us. You were right when you said that last fall at Winchester. Boston is trident on, but she lies quiet. The colonies look to us. It is the voice of the south, of Virginia, that is wanting."

He stopped. Jefferson was bustling toward them. He bowed to Anne.

"Have you heard the buzz from London?" he asked Henry loudly. "The all among the delegates? The declared that our petition to the king are generally rejected, that all the acts will be suspended save the admiralty and the navy, and that North and Dartmouth will be replaced."

"Aye," burst Henry fiercely. "Another Tory tale! And they will waver again. Tom, Tom, it must be now or never!"

He stopped abruptly and strode across the churchyard over the matted by on the shrunken mounds and, threading his way between the old slate tombstones, upright like black liehened cutlery lids, entered the silence.

From her seat in the west gallery, whither Jefferson had taken her, Anne surveyed the scene below.

The first proceedings interested her little—the reading of Jarrat's letter memorial to the king—and her gaze wandered. Through the open windows she could hear the hum of the great crowd about the building and catch a glimpse of the founding James. The steps below her was packed and full of a strange intention.

Here and there she could see faces which she knew. The ladies of Richmond were scattered through both galleries. Fremont and young St. George Tucker were leaning over the rail opposite. Jefferson and Colonel Benjamin Harrison of Berkeley sat together just below Peyton Randolph, the president.

SKIN DISEASES

Altoona, Pa., June 20, 1903.

I was afflicted with Tetter in bad shape. It would appear in blotches as large as my hand, a yellowish color, and scale off. You can imagine how offensive it was. For twelve years I was afflicted with this trouble. At night it was a case of scratch and many times no rest at all. Seeing the good the medicine was doing a friend who was taking it for Eczema, I commenced it, and as a result the eruption began to dry up and disappear, and to-day I am practically a well man. Only two tiny spots are left on the elbow and shin, where once the whole body was affected. I have every confidence in the medicine, and feel sure that in a short time these two remaining spots will disappear. S. S. S. is certainly a great blood purifier, and has done me a world of good. I am grateful for what it has accomplished, and trust that what I have said will lead others who are similarly afflicted to take the remedy and obtain the same good results that I have.

125 East Fifth Ave. JOHN F. LEAR.

While washes, soaps, salves and powders relieve temporarily, they do not reach the real cause of the disease. The blood must be purified before the cure is permanent. S. S. S. contains no potash, arsenic or mineral of any description, but is guaranteed purely vegetable.

Send for our book on the skin and its diseases, which is mailed free. Our physicians will cheerfully advise without charge any who write us about their case.

SOLVES INJUNCTION AGAINST THE TOBACCO TRUST.

New York, Oct. 21.—Vice Chancellor Pitney, Jersey City, heard further argument on the rule to show cause why the Consolidated, Continental and American Tobacco Companies should not be restrained from carrying out the proposed merger. After hearing the arguments of both sides Vice-Chancellor Pitney dissolved the temporary injunction and dismissed the bill of complaint.

On October 11 Alan H. Strong, of counsel for the complainant, raised a question as to whether the Morton Trust Company, as a trustee, really had the bonds which the promoters of the merger claimed it had.

He Obeyed His Daughter And Felt Much Pleased

"N"OW, papa," said the self-made millionaire's beautiful daughter, "when the duke comes to your office today to ask you for me you must be careful when you speak to him to always say 'your grace.' Don't forget. It would be a terrible breach of etiquette if you shouldn't keep saying 'your grace' whenever you speak to him."

The happy old man promised that he would not forget and hurried away. He was busy revising his usual report of the H. C. and W. when the young nobleman arrived.

"Ah, glad to see you, your grace," said Mr. Worthwinds. "Come right in. Here, Johnny, bring him a chair and then get out. 'Well, your grace, it's nice weather we're havin'. Do you smoke, your grace?'"

"Thanks," answered the duke, lighting a cigarette, "if you don't mind."

"Oh, throw that away, your grace, and have one of these. They cost me $30 a hundred, your grace."

"No, really, I prefer this."

"All right, your grace, but them things is mighty dangerous, your grace. Did you want to see me about anything particular this morning, your grace? Say, you've got a black streak on your face, your grace."

"Aw, this beauty suit. I shall remind my man for falling to notice it. May I retire for a moment?"

"Never mind, your grace. Spit on your handkerchief and rub it off, your grace. I s'pose you want to ask me about my daughter, your grace, eh? Well, your grace, I'm ready to talk business, your grace. Name your price, your grace."

Having agreed upon terms the gentlemen parted.

"There," said the old man to himself, as he took up his report after the duke's departure, "I guess I've showed him that he's got to marry into a family that can get right in among the nobility and talk as though they'd been used to that kind of society all their life."—Chicago Record-Herald.

GIVING IT AWAY.

"Now, children," said the Sunday school teacher, bustling them into the street car, "you must all sit down and keep still, and when we get out to the picnic grounds we'll pick wild flowers."

"Honest, don't I have to pay my fare?" asked one of the children.

"Why don't I?" persisted the child.

"Oh, keep still, kid," spoke up the tough little boy in the rear seat. "Do you s'pose she wants everybody to know she's got the conductor on her staff?"—Indianapolis Sun.

Qualified.

The young man was applying for a position as drug clerk.

"And you consider yourself competent to stand in a pharmacy?" interrogated the proprietor.

"I should say so," responded the young man. "I can smile at babies, hand out ten almanacs a second, understand the soda wink, pass stamps on envelopes, hunt up names in the directory and listen to every one's troubles."

"You'll do. Just off the tooth-brushes."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Important Omission.

What books are those you are packing, Henry?

"These? It's that set of One Hundred Best Books that feel agent got me to buy last fall."

"Oh, yes. I looked all through them this morning for something that would give instructions on how to pack books."—Chicago Tribune.

A Good Hand at a Bargain.

"I tell you," said the small boy admiringly, "my father is a mighty good business man."

"How do you know?" asked the other.

"He wants me to start in being good so that I can go to the next circus before the circus is even advertised."—Washington Star.

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00.

SECRET WEDDING.

Caliz, Ky., Oct. 21.—Quite a surprise was sprung in the county by the announcement that Miss Dollie Byard, daughter of Mr. W. A. Bogard, was the wife of Mr. Charles Byard, of Pleasant View, Tenn., the wedding having taken place over a year ago, on the second day of September, 1903, at the home of Mrs. Major, an aunt of the groom, near Hopkinsville. The groom returned to his home at Pleasant View, where he is engaged in the tobacco business, and the bride returned to her home near Gollee Pond, and outside of one or two very close friends, the event was kept a profound secret until a few days ago, when Mr.

VALUABLE STONE IN UNIDENTIFIED DEN.

Marion Ky., Oct. 21.—The lithographic stone, recently discovered in the district between Salem and the Cumberland river bids fair to be of great value. A first class stone must polish as smoothly as a piece of plate silver. It must be free from too great porosity to prevent the ink from penetrating to any decided depth. The stone can be used again and again until repeated polishings have worn it to a thinness which makes it undesirable for further use.

The Salem stone had had a very thorough test in Louisville and artists there pronounced it a first class article. The vein in which this Salem stone is produced is of a decided lime formation and the stone is found between two entirely different strata of this formation.

SEVERAL ARRESTS

CONSTABLE SHELTON TAKES IN SEVERAL FOR MISDEMEANORS.

Constable A. C. Shelton this morning arrested Adolph, Annie and Morris Wallace on a warrant issued by Justice Jesse Young charging a breach of the peace.

It is alleged that the three men went to the home of John Collier in Mechanicsburg, and abused his wife in very strong language and refused to leave the premises when ordered away by Mrs. Collier.

They were brought into court, examined and their cases set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning before Justice Young.

Constable Shelton yesterday arrested George Griggs, of the county, on a warrant issued by Justice A. N. Sears charging a breach of the peace committed last September in Mechanicsburg at a dance.

It is alleged that Griggs and Andy Fodge had a misunderstanding ending in a mutual fight. Griggs returned home to the country and had been to town but twice, the first time returning before the officer could find him.

This time however, Constable Shelton arrested him before he got away and Justice Sears fined him $1 and costs.

JOHN JOHNSON, WHITE, TELLS HIS TROUBLES TO THE POLICE.

Johnson said he was drinking and was walking from Teeth and Kentucky to Eleventh street when he was accosted by the negro and asked for change for a $20 bill.

Thinking the negro was a railroad man who had just gotten his money, Johnson drew out his pocket book and started to secure the change when the pocketbook was suddenly snatched from his hand and the negro ran.

The police have no description of the negro and do not know how to go about working the case. Johnson says he had about $25 in the pocketbook.

An Italian Claims to Have Made a Marvelous Discovery.

Rome, Oct. 17.—With all reserve the glad tidings of the discovery of the philosopher's stone is published by the Tribune, in a telegram from its Florence correspondent. According to this gentleman, a certain Titus Fabiani has received a message from his son now in Paris declaring that he has compounded a wonderful metal, possessing not only the color of gold, but all its properties, and has sold it to a syndicate in which the Rothschilds are taking equal shares with a Belgian company. The substance, adds the correspondent, can be manufactured at comparative small cost. It has also the properties of radium.

FREE RECLINING CHAIR CARS TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The Southern Railway has inaugurated a line of free reclining chair cars on the night trains between Lexington, Louisville and St. Louis through without change in each direction, in addition to the through sleepers and coaches heretofore operated.

These are brand new vestibuled cars with all the latest improvements, including smoking compartment, separate wash rooms for ladies and gentlemen, lighted by kerosene gas. These reclining chair cars are sure to prove popular with the patrons of the road as they are very comfortable and at night the chairs can be turned back, and used instead of the Pullman sleeper without any extra charge. Any passenger holding a regular through ticket over the Southern Railway is entitled to ride in these cars.
